CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

3. Neubrandenburg (U66), 22 February

A resident alleges that all troops formerly occupying Neubrandenburg left during January. Replacements have been arriving steadily and on 22 February troop strength was estimated at 5,000 men. Sixty tanks have been observed.

4. Wunsdorf (Z91), 26-28 February

Installations at Wunsdorf are occupied by units of 7 Mechanized Division § as follows:

Lutz Kaserne : Motorized rifle troops. Sheds contain 120 mm mortars, 85 mm and 100 mm AT guns.

Panzertruppendivision : One armored regiment whose troops wear black tabs/red piping with tank insignia. Of 120 parked tanks, 32 were JS-1, the balance T-34 and T-34/85.

Gambrai Kaserne : One armored regiment and some troops belonging to an armored instruction regiment.

Heeresportschule : Division HQ and supply train units. Buildings to the south are held by artillery troops recently transferred from Rehagen. The divisional CG is 25X1B0a
Imu Hermokov, [REDACTED]

Hindenburg Kaserne : One armored regiment, most of whose EM appear to be 1928 recruits, with thirty-two T-34 tanks. Also some troops belonging to an armored instruction regiment.

Requisitioned residential areas: Occupied by armored troops. Twenty-six JS-1 were counted in this area which lies immediately south of the Hindenburg Kaserne.

Schule für Heeresmotorisierung: A signal and construction unit whose men wear black tabs without piping.

Comment: Competent authorities carry 19 Guards Mech Division at Zossen (Z91), 7 Guards Cadre Tank Division at Jüterbog (E69), while 7 Guards Cadre Mech Division (of Fourth Guards Cadre Mech Army) remains unlocated. The same source reported the departure of 7 Tank Division southwest out of Kammersdorf, 31 January-7 February.

Comment: For Hermokov read Genmaior Yermokhov. This note suggests that Yermokhov may have returned from Moscow, where he was earlier reported to be by the same source, who predicted the General's return to Wunsdorf during February.
